

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS

The 14th International Terroir congress and the 2nd ClimWine symposium will be held jointly in Bordeaux from July 3 to 8, 2022. This will be a unique opportunity for scientists working on these topics to finally meet physically (we hope!), to discuss about their latest results, to discover the terroirs of Bordeaux, to exchange with members of the industry, to taste famous wines (and food) and, last but not least, to enjoy convivial moments between colleagues. The team of the Ecophysiology and Functional Genomics of Grapevine laboratory, from the Institute of Vine & Wine Science of Bordeaux, is in charge of the event.

*Looking forward to see you soon,
The terclim organizing committee.*

ABSTRACT SUBMISSION

- Participants to terclim are invited to submit abstracts for oral or poster presentations. The sessions list and guidelines for online submission will be available on the conference website on September 30, 2021.
- Abstracts will be selected by the scientific committee for oral, flash oral or poster presentation. Prizes will be awarded for the best oral and poster presentation for junior and senior scientists.
- After acceptance of the abstract, oral presenters, including keynote speakers, are invited to submit either (1) a full-text article for a special issue of the journal OENO One, or (2) an extended abstract (4-6 pages) to be published on the IVES Conference Series portal. If the authors do not agree, the work should be presented as a poster.
- Submission is accepted prior to registration to the symposium but any accepted abstract will not be included in the final program if at least one of the authors is not registered before the deadline of the registration period.
- As the book of abstracts, the special issue in the International peer-reviewed journal OENO One and the proceedings should be published prior to the conference, the deadlines for submission and review will be very short. Abstracts for oral presentation are due by October 15, 2021.
